Men Arrested in Alleged Cattle Theft

Brand Enforcement Officers with the Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry, working in conjunction with the Beauregard Parish Sheriff's Department, arrested four Beauregard Parish men on livestock theft charges in January, for allegedly stealing cattle from a LDAF employee, Agriculture and Forestry Commissioner Bob Odom said.

Terry Lance Coleman, 24 and Shawn Thomas Milner, 24, both of Longville; Aaron Blake Kochell, 23 and Christopher Wayne

Peshoff, 22, both of Ragley, were booked by the Beauregard Parish Sheriff's Department following an investigation.

Brand Commission investigators have regulatory powers authorizing them to investigate all aspects of crimes and incidents dealing with agriculture and forestry.

"People are always trying to find ways to make a quick buck," Odom said. "That's why livestock owners need to stay one step ahead of thieves by keeping good records so if they fall victim of livestock theft, they can easily identify and recover their property."

LDAF Brand Enforcement Officers received information from a fellow LDAF employee working at the Kinder Livestock Auction that seven cows and three calves checked-in for sale looked like her own. An investigation resulted in 24 counts of livestock theft lodged against the men.

Upon further investigation, Brand Officers discovered information that led the arrest of Coleman, Kochell and Milner for alleged cattle theft in Allen Parish.

All stolen livestock that were sold have been traced through the local sale barns in Kinder and DeQuincy by positive identification by the owners and using registered brand records.

"We take cattle theft very seriously in Louisiana," Odom said. "Farm animals are valuable property and thieves will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law."

Odom urged livestock owners to keep good records and report any possible thefts to the LDAF Crimestoppers hotline at 1-800-558-9741.
